

- 1) Using the Library of Congress Subject Headings in the Big Red Books:

Look Up: _____

It Says:

(For this class I should/might use): _____

- 2) LCSH subdivisions come in four types. Find an example of each type, copy down the ENTIRE subject heading entry, and underline the subdivision type.

Topical:

Form:

Chronological:

Geographic:

- 3) I hope you're getting closer to the topic for your paper. Briefly describe (two sentences) what you are/might be interested in researching:

- 4) Look up your topic in the red books. What are two good headings:

- 5) Check this box when you have established an interlibrary loan account: ☐

- 6) Now search WorldCat for books on your topic. Keep track of good subject headings (and subdivisions) as you search. Select three potentially useful resources and cite them on the flip side of this page. At least one must be primary.

Good Subject Headings/Subdivision:

First source:

Title: _____

Author/Editor: _____

Publisher: _____

Location: _____

Date: _____

Other significant information:

How many libraries? _____

Are any of them SUNY libraries? _____

Second source:

Title: _____

Author/Editor: _____

Publisher: _____

Location: _____

Date: _____

Other significant information:

How many libraries? _____

Are any of them SUNY libraries? _____

Primary source:

Title: _____

Author/Editor: _____

Publisher: _____

Location: _____

Other significant information:

Date: _____

How many libraries? _____

Are any of them SUNY libraries? _____